The Newspaper Man.

The newspaper man is the lord of creation. The monarch of public opinion and views. One morn in the midst of a church congregation, The next at a prize fight in search of the news, He speaks, and the world stands in awe at his wisdom, He smiles, and it laughs at his wit and his fun; No rivals to out him—he knows that in his domination he's king—for his work is well done. In foray and forage, at funeral or wedding, 'Mid Boreal snows, or where tropic suns tan; Where dancers are smiling, or mourners tears shedding, You'll surely run foul of a newspaper man. In the camp with the host of his country's privates, In halls where Dame Fashion her votaries decks; At concerts; in front—the observed of observers— More than facile princeps, he's facile rex. Should Satan himself run across a reporter, An interview'd follow—of that there's no doubt; The verbiage would soon show him for once that he'd caught a Young man whose mamma was aware he was not. When the final crash comes, he'll be there to record it, With note book and pencil the same as of yore; In "Gaiety's Trumpet"—if you can afford it— Next morning you'll read it—three columns or four.—New York Journal.

Brother John And His Third Party.

WHEELER, KY., June 29, 1891.

EDITOR NEWS.—In a recent issue of your paper, one John T. Wheeler, of Union Star, saw fit to criticize some remarks I had made in a communication a short time before. But about all he said was "If a man belongs to an organization he should go with it or leave it, and he should not belong to one church and act with another." Now, Brother John, your head is level. I have taken your advice and withdrawn from the F. M. B. A. simply because I am a Democrat, and agree with you when you say, "Neither a Democrat nor a Republican has any business in the order, since it has become partisan." Now, as to the church. Well, I am in full fellowship with every member of the church with which I affiliate.

At an open meeting of the F. M. B. A. at Walnut Grove church, Saturday, June 27, Brother Wheeler was the principal orator. He started off by telling us that his mission was henceforth, to educate the farmer and bring him out of his present benighted condition—how ignorant and blind he had been himself until he made that extensive trip clear to Cincinnati, where he was educated in an instant when the transformation came. He actually told us that the war was over. Now, I will tell you what that reminds me of and I hope no one will take the story as sacrilegious. A few years ago a preacher dropped down into Arizona where the gospel had never been preached and made an appointment to preach at a certain day. The rancheros for thirty miles around came out to hear him. After services all went home and one man told his wife that Christ was dead. Her answer was, "There now John I told you that we ought to be taking a paper or some big man would die and we would never know it." Just so with Brother John. He had never been away from home before and takes no paper hence it is not expected he should know the war was over.

Oh! it was really amusing to see Brother John stand before the audience with his pants on hindpart before (at least they looked like it), and expatiate on the many good qualities of himself and the Third Party, while "the two old parties" were all corruption and rottenness. Now, it looks like had policy in the People's Party to send a man out to educate the masses when he doesn't know how to put on his own pants. Brother John and the Third Party people abuse both the old parties, but as a matter of course expect the Republicans to vote for their candidate. But they (the Republicans) in these parts do not take kindly to the scheme. They are not so easily humbugged as that. I am satisfied that more Republicans will vote for "Mug" at these precincts, Clifton Mills and Union Star than Democrats will vote for Dr. George, and twice as many Republicans will stand off as will vote for "Mug."

The Republicans are not willing to disorganize their own party in order to defeat a Democratic nominee.

Dr. George will not get a single negro vote here. Brother John T. on last Saturday said, "Young men do you want office? If you do fall into the People's Party and you can get it." Now, Brother John do you want office? If so you must change the front of your pants. That is just what will kill the People's Party. Brother John—place hunters who have never been recognized as worthy of any position or trust by either of the old parties. "Let the office seek the man."

Now, Brother John please criticize us no more for you know, "Some have at first for wits then poets passed Turned critics next and proved plain fools at last. Some neither for wits nor critics pass, As heavy mules are neither horse nor ass."

I notice that a great divine of Atlanta, Georgia, claims that the millennium is to begin sometime this year, and a Harvard professor has it in '94. Now, I have been figuring on that thing myself and I am thoroughly satisfied that it will begin in '92, when the Democrats shall have elected all their officers from President down to constable. The election of "Mug" by 500 votes is the shadow cast by coming events.

PROTECTION.

The Real Cause of the Farmers' Hardships.

The organization of the Farmers' Alliance is a sign of the times. Every social or industrial movement that involves a considerable body of the people and persists in its demands is a sign of the times—and the Farmers' movement is certainly a phenomenon of this kind. It indicates that the political conditions of the country are unsatisfactory and that the vast body of the people engaged in tilling the soil for a living are discontented. The country, as a whole, is prosperous. In the last decade the population has increased 12,500,000, and six new States have been added to the Union. One bountiful crop after another has added its increment to the general wealth. The railroad mileage has increased from 93,000 to 170,000, and the internal traffic of the country is estimated at $25,000,000,000—figures so vast that they can only be stated, not comprehended. We produce more gold and silver than any three other countries in the world; we make more than Great Britain, or any other country; and Hon. Wm. McKinley of Ohio told nothing but the plain truth when he said: "We lead all nations in agriculture; we lead all nations in mining, and we lead all nations in manufacturing."

But why are the farmers discontented in the midst of this phenomenal prosperity? Why is it that the largest class of workers in the land, and the class which contributes more than any other to the general wealth finds it necessary to organize in alliances, hold conventions and thrust its grievances before the public? Never before in the history of the country did the farmers as a body talk so much about mortgages, low prices of crops, scarcity of money, the pressure of debts, the difficulty of finding a crop that will pay for raising it, the impossibility of selling their farms at any reasonable price, and the general hardships of their condition. Why is it they do so now? What is the matter with the farmers?

It is not that railroads are owned by corporations instead of by the Government; it is not that railroad property is assessed at too low a valuation; nor that there are too few Union veterans receiving pensions; nor that the President and Vice-President are chosen by electors instead of by the direct vote of the people—nor all these things together, as some of their conventions appear to imagine; and when Farmers' conventions mumble about these things they give painful evidence that they do not grasp the situation.

The real cause of farmers' hardships is to be found almost in a single word—protection. Other agencies have something to do with the trouble, such as extravagance at Washington, excessive land grants to Eastern corporations owning railroads in the West, and manipulation of the national debt and finances during the last twenty-seven years in the interest of the moneyed section and the creditor classes. But the pre-eminent and overshadowing cause is that the Government has exalted manufacturing over all other interests and fostered it at the expense of other producing interests, particularly that of agriculture; that certain kinds of manufacturing, found chiefly in the Northeastern States, have been favored and protected by the Government by a system of tolls and exactions that fall most heavily upon that class which, being the ground-sill of the social structure, is incapable of charging them against a class next below it—the tillers of the soil.

Somebody must pay for the protective favors which have made the manufacturing interest and the manufacturing section so enormously rich, for it is impossible to protect one class except at the cost of others. It has been estimated that the sum that every farmer's family in the land pays to protected manufactures in the shape of excessive prices for articles of necessity and comfort is $50 a year, and that is what hurts the farmers.—St. Louis Republic.

That Terrible Cough

In the morning, hurried or difficult breathing, raising phlegm, tightness in the chest, quickened pulse, chilliness in the evening or sweats at night, all or any of these things are the first stages of consumption. Dr. Acker's English Cough Remedy will cure these fearful symptoms and is sold under a positive guarantee by G. W. Short, Cloverport, Ky., and Witt & Meador, Hardinsburg, Ky.

Not a Good Example.

So long as the wife of the President of the United States, by courtesy considered the first lady in the land subscribes herself as "Carrie" it is not astonishing that the unmarried daughter of a member of the Cabinet should be called "Hattie." We quite agree with the Sun, however, that the perversion of such noble names as Caroline and Harriet is to be deprecated.—Troy Press.

WANT NONE OF IT.

New England Farmers Do Not Take Kindly to the So-Called People's Party.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., July 9.—An extended canvass by the New England Homestead shows that the new People's party is not indorsed by the farmers of New England and New York. The men interviewed were all prominent farmers. While some favor more independent political action than heretofore, nearly all oppose the idea of a special farmers' party. One or two go so far as to say that this party, if very conservative, and the right platform is put forward, will draw 10 per cent. of the farmers' votes in their sections—Maine and New York—but the majority place this number far lower, from 1 to 2 percent. being the average.

The Sub-Treasury bill and the loaning of new issues of paper by the Government on land values are looked upon as wild schemes, and the free coinage of silver has but a small following. The opinion in general shows the strength of the position long held by the Grange, and carried out by the Farmers' League that the farmers, movement in this section of the country will consist more in independent action through the old parties than in forming any new party.

A Success.

Royal Germetuer is established as a remarkable success. Thousands of testimonials attest its virtue. Many of these are given by men and women of the highest standing in the most honored walks of life.

In the midst of a flourishing and rapidly increasing business, the price is reduced from $1.50 to $1 per bottle. This is done in the interest of those whose circumstances in life deter them from paying the higher price. The rich will buy it at any price, but the managers feel that a medicine which possesses such wonderful powers should be placed within the reach of the poor. Many have said that Germetuer was the cheapest medicine on the market. When it is remembered that a bottle of Germetuer makes a gallon of medicine ready for use, it is certainly cheaper than ordinary medicine in a bulk, and when the powers of the medicine are taken into account, the price amounts to almost nothing.

Germetuer is the coming success that has already come. Ask your druggist for it, and if he cannot supply you write to E. M. Coleman, General Representative, Louisville, Ky. Send for book containing particulars and history of wonderful cures.

Editorial Ability.

In a recent number of the New York Journalist that paper takes the ground that the shears are quite as important at times as the quill, the following is what it says: "A good many people do not know that an editor's selections from his contemporaries are quite often the best test of his editorial ability, and the function of the scissor is not merely to fill up vacant spaces, but to reproduce the brightest and best thoughts and the most attractive news from all sources at the editor's command. There are times when the editor opens his exchanges and finds a feast for eyes, heart and soul. The thoughts of his contemporaries glow with life. He wishes his readers to enjoy the feast, and he lovingly takes up his scissors and clips and clips, and sighs to think that his space is inadequate to contain all the treasures so prodigally spread before him. Your true editor is generous, and will sacrifice his own ambition as a writer during festive occasions and it is for more profit to his readers to set before them the original dish of dainties with the label of author affixed, than to appropriate its best thought to himself, and reproduce them as his own. After all, the true test of a newspaper's real value is not the amount of original matter it contains but the average quality of all the matter appearing in its columns, whether original or selected."

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him. Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Using three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by G. W. Short.
